

Consumer Loan Borrower Information

This is not a loan application. Rather, it is a worksheet designed to help you gather the information we will need to have if you decide to apply for a consumer loan. According to our loan procedures, a loan application does not exist until you request a loan and all necessary information required for us to evaluate your request is entered into our computer system and transmitted electronically to our Retail Central Underwriting Department.

If you apply to us for a consumer loan, we will make such credit, employment or investigative inquiries about you from time to time as we deem appropriate to evaluate your application, to administer your loan account, to collect any sums you owe us, and to determine your eligibility for other financial products and services we and our affiliates offer. We will obtain consumer reports (credit reports) about you and will furnish information about you and your account relationships with us to consumer reporting agencies and others who may properly receive that information.
